

QUESTIONS

1. Please clarify the Redevelopment Agency in San Joaquin
2. What was involved in the literature on Every Best-Case Center Development? Did it involve developers, transportation, public agencies, etc...?
3. What are the financing needs and demands for caregivers (centers and FBC) in San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties?
4. Are there ways to connect with organizations to communicate with caregivers?
5. What happens to providers when space for child care is available but owners are reluctant to make the specific tenant improvements required?
6. How do we access recent administrative policies for the child care development fee.
7. How to we access Loan Documents for Improvements, including terms?
8. How can policy-level work compete for funding with money within cities and counties going towards direct services? Where can we find out about resource or grant ideas concerning this topic?
9. How do we establish a nexus study?
10. In what ways do universal preschool initiatives impact facilities planning in various counties? To what extent are facility issues included in the planning?
11. How did Kern County get funding for their Needs Analysis Maps? Is this used often and is it helpful to you?
12. Are there any ideas or examples for center development in higher income cities and regions?
13. What are the best arguments for gaining the support of private developers—a positive way to get support!
14. What is different about the LPC in San Mateo that makes their collaborations so successful?
15. If a county doesn't have LINCC, how can the LPC invest? How can we push LPCs to prioritize this work?
16. How can we get businesses, local governments, and stakeholders in child care to act as spokesmen for LINCC, as opposed to LPCs and R&Rs.